

Mesa Harmony Garden

November 2nd, 10am-12noon

BEST BARE-ROOT FRUIT TREES

A panel discussion of the best low-chill, edible plants for the South Coast, including new cultivars!

*Why waste time and money on cultivars that won't perform in our area? Learn from the experience of the panel about which plants give the most "bang for the buck"! We'll talk about the good, the bad and the ugly! We'll also explore the importance of rootstocks that can take drought, limit size etc.

Larry Saltzman

Larry, who will guide this discussion, specializes in Mediterranean Food Forests. He and his wife Linda have a 25-year-old Food Forest in Santa Barbara.

He has spoken and written extensively on Food Forests. He co-founded the Santa Barbara Organic Garden Club and is past President of both the Permaculture Guild of Santa Barbara and the Santa Barbara Ventura Chapter of the California Rare Fruit Growers.
